GOOD MANUFACTURING PRACTICES & BIOTERRORISM

ADM Animal Nutrition™, a division of Archer Daniels Midland Company, hereby certifies that it is in compliance with all current and applicable FDA regulations. ADM Animal Nutrition hereby certifies that all production plants are in compliance with 21 CFR §225 or §226, current Good Manufacturing Practice Regulations. All production and warehouse locations are registered under the guidelines and requirements of the Bioterrorism Act of 2002 (21 CFR §1) and the FDA Food Safety Modernization Act of 2011.

BSE/RESTRICTED USE ANIMAL PROTEINS

ADM Animal Nutrition locations use only non-prohibited ingredients in manufacturing of ADM Animal Nutrition products as defined in 21 CFR §589.2000 and §589.2001 and the ingredients defined in the Association of American Feed Control Officials current Official Publication. Any transportation vehicles that bring product into the plant and/or transport products away from the plant comply fully with guidelines set forth in these regulations.

RFR/FDA AMENDMENTS ACT/FOOD SAFETY MODERNIZATION ACT

ADM Animal Nutrition hereby certifies that all production locations comply fully with the FDA Reportable Food Registry within section 417 of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, the FDA Amendments Act of 2007, and the FDA Food Safety Modernization Act of 2011.

This Certificate is executed by a duly authorized representative of ADM Animal Nutrition for the benefit of the person(s) or companies.

Sincerely,
